

A Badly Installed Hangar Floor.

What A Hangar Floor Should Not Look Like!

The photographs above show a badly installed hangar floor with an inexpensive epoxy coating (that will fade/dull and stain easily within months). The epoxy coating was installed over dirt with little care for trimming the walls/beams and repairing cracks and control joints (showing the lack of attention to detail). Overall, this is one of the worst floors we have come across in over 20 years of installing hangar floors with almost everything done wrong!
